1. On 5 February 1953, the Artillerie Kaserne on Kranoldstrasse and Rathenowstrasse, Eilenburg, was occupied by about 1,200 to 1,500 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.
On 24 January, soldiers were seen drilling on several guns, and about 200 other soldiers received instruction in the barracks yard.

2. On 14 January, the Artillerie Kaserne was occupied by about 700 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets. About 60 percent of the windows of the barracks buildings were lighted after nightfall. At about 8:30 a.m. on 10 January, 20 soldiers were maintaining four trucks in, and in front of, the motor vehicle sheds and, at 2 p.m., about 30 soldiers were drilling in the barracks yard. On 14 January, about 30 soldiers were seen with three trucks, each towing a 120-mm mortar. The soldiers prepared themselves for marching out of the installation. Thirty troops were drilling from noon to 2 p.m.

. they do not belong to the 350th (7) How Arty Regt carried there. As, on the other hand, the 265th Gds Mort Regt of the 8th Gds Mecz Div, according to information of November 1952, is carried in the Flak Kaserne in Wurzen, the occupation of the Artillerie Kaserne in Eilenburg is still undetermined.
